About Montreat College:
Montreat College is a Christian liberal arts college accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to offer masters, bachelors, and associates degrees. The main campus is located in the Blue Ridge Mountains fifteen miles east of Asheville, North Carolina, a region recognized as one of the most attractive living environments in the United States. Satellite campuses in Asheville, Charlotte, and other sites supplement the main campus. The College was founded by the Presbyterian Church and is committed to Christ-centered teaching and learning, and is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges & Universities.

Montreat College seeks faculty members who are professing Christians and who evidence a dual commitment to faith and learning. On the one hand, the college seeks faculty who have the ability and desire to bring an informed, biblical perspective to their academic discipline. Avoiding the simplistic, faculty will be expected to grapple with the declaration that “all truth is God’s truth.” As they explore what this means in their own academic discipline, they should model for their students the integration of faith and learning.
