

Virginia Snoddy's Home
Montreat, NC

Dear Friends,

I recently made a very important decision. After much prayer and counsel with family, I decided that when Jesus calls me home, our family house in Montreat would become the property of Montreat College. The college asked me to share my decision, and although I was reluctant to do so, I realized there might be others willing to make the same choice.

Two factors weighed heavily into my decision to donate this property to the college. One reason spans three decades: Our family has long appreciated and supported Montreat College. I have been told that our family's past and current support has in some way helped hundreds of students achieve their dream of earning a college degree. I am encouraged to know that many of today's Montreat College alumni are leaders in their respective communities and their impact is both broad and deep for the cause of Christ. It is that cause that motivates me further: It brings me great joy today, knowing that beyond my "earthly" years, Montreat College will continue focusing on its Christ-centered mission. Investing in the future of our faith is critical.

Generations that follow stand on our decisions. The Snoddy family believes in the Montreat College of tomorrow. I am pleased that two of my grandchildren chose Montreat College to expand academically and to grow closer to Christ. May God bless your important decisions, too!
