

Position: Assistant Professor of Public Health

Location: Online

Start Date: July 1, 2021

Summary: Montreat College seeks a full-time faculty member in the area of Public Health. This is a full-time position.

Duties and Responsibilities: The candidate will be responsible for teaching courses in Public Health and other related areas, with specific courses determined by background and departmental needs. Additional responsibilities include updating curriculum, participating in faculty committees, and other duties as described in the Faculty Handbook.

Qualifications: Successful candidate will affirm and support the Mission, Vision, and Statement of Faith of Montreat College as found here:

<https://www.montreat.edu/about/mission/>

The successful candidate will also demonstrate support for Christian liberal arts education and the specific ability to integrate faith and the discipline in a compelling, thoughtful manner.

Teaching excellence and a willingness to serve the broader college community through service and committee work are also expected.

Education/Experience:

A Doctorate in Public Health is required for this position. College-level teaching experience and professional experience in public health preferred.

Supervision:

Department Chair for Arts and Sciences, School of Adult and Graduate Studies

Application Requirements/How to Apply:

Review of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Candidates are requested to send the following materials:

- 1) Complete Application <https://www.montreat.edu/about/job-openings/application/>
- 2) Letter of Application
- 3) Curriculum Vitae
- 4) Transcripts of Undergraduate and Graduate Work
- 5) Statement of Faith
- 6) Statement of Philosophy of Christian Higher Education
- 7) List of Three References with Contact Information

Submit all required materials to Mary Jo Dukas, mary.dukas@montreat.edu

About Montreat College:

Montreat College is a Christian liberal arts college accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to offer masters, bachelors, and associates degrees. The main campus is located in the Blue Ridge Mountains fifteen miles east of Asheville, North Carolina, a region recognized as one of the most attractive living environments in the United States. The College is committed to Christ-centered teaching and learning and is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges & Universities.