

Position: Assistant/Associate Professor of Business

Location: Montreat, North Carolina

Start Date: August 2022

Summary: The School of Arts and Sciences at Montreat College seeks a full-time faculty member in the Business Department to join a growing and dynamic faculty team. Montreat College's enrollment has grown rapidly in recent years, and Business students currently constitute one of the largest majors on campus. This faculty member will teach introductory and upper-level courses in general Business, Economics, Finance and/or Marketing (some combination of these strongly preferred), commensurate with applicant's background and the needs of the program. The successful candidate will also provide leadership and oversight (as chair or coordinator) for the Business program in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Duties and Responsibilities: The candidate will be responsible for:

- Teaching general education and major courses in the Business department determined by background and departmental needs, including but not limited to courses in Economics (in a Business context), Finance, Marketing, or possibly Accounting.
- Courses may include but are not limited to: Macroeconomics, Microeconomics, Money and Banking, Investments, Personal Finance, International economics, etc.
- Advising students
- Participating in faculty committees
- Other duties as described in the Faculty Handbook

Qualifications: Successful candidate will affirm and support the Mission, Vision, and Statement of Faith of Montreat College as found here: <https://www.montreat.edu/about/mission/>

The successful candidate will also demonstrate support for Christian liberal arts education and the specific ability to integrate faith and the discipline in a compelling, thoughtful manner. Teaching excellence and a willingness to serve the broader college community through service and committee work are also expected.

Education/Experience:

PhD in a Business field or DBA. ABDs may be considered if evidence of progress toward dissertation completion can be presented. Interest and experience with Economics in a Business context preferred. College-level teaching and program leadership experience preferred.

Supervision:
